UNESCO’s Asia-Pacific Expert Meeting provides an opportunity to gain valuable feedback on how to implement National Qualifications Frameworks (NQFs) at subject level.

With generous support from the Republic of Korea Funds-In-Trust (KFIT), the aim of the meeting is to take stock of how subject benchmarks for educational studies are developed and how they connect with NQFs and quality assurance systems to promote cross-border mobility.

In line with the Education 2030 agenda, the meeting objectives are to:

- Assess the diverse norms and principles of how higher education institutions develop subject-specific quality standards;
- Take stock of subject-specific quality tools in a pilot field - educational studies in Asia and the Pacific;
- Develop a research framework to inform regional guidelines on how to implement NQFs at subject level.

Participants will be asked to share their insights and provide feedback on UNESCO’s work on higher education in Asia and the Pacific and exchange views on current and emerging developments on the subject within the sector.
